Research

ARK (Northern Ireland
Social & Political Archive)

'Young Life and Times Survey'

To monitor changing attitudes to community relations and attitudes to community relations issues among 16 year olds across Northern Ireland using an annual survey akin to the Northern Ireland Life and Times Survey (NILT)

£48,890.00

City Bridges

'City Bridges Research Project'

City Bridges wishes to assess how Belfast Trades Council and the trade union movement in general can contribute to a peaceful and inclusive society. It proposes a process of open-ended research, examining perceptions of the movement and its role and seeking guidance from its own activists and leaders, and their counterparts in the community, for the way forward.

£37,240.92

Democratic Dialogue

'Community Reconciliation in Northern Ireland: Realising opportunities, meeting challenges and ensuring new innovation into the future.'

The project will explore how the term 'reconciliation' is conceptualised within a range of community organisations and local authorities and how this understanding is translated into practical strategies for action. A direct objective will be to improve local council relationships with community reconciliation initiatives, sensitising all parties involved to the processes being undertaken in order to enhance the work on the ground through improved communication, knowledge and co-operation.
