1. WHO WE ARE

i. Introduction

The NI Community Relations Council (CRC) was established in 1990 to lead and support change towards reconciliation, tolerance, and mutual trust; and to be a catalyst for good inter-community and inter-cultural relationships in the region. The Community Relations Council is an arms-length body of The Executive Office.

We believe the delivery of a peaceful, reconciled and interdependent society will be based on social partnership, the broader engagement of civil society and positive political leadership underpinned by priorities including fairness, equity, openness and diversity.

We promote the benefits of good relations policies and practice at regional, local, community and institutional levels; advocating for acknowledgment of our interdependence; and challenging sectarianism, racism and all related activities that are motivated by hatred.

We distribute grant aid on behalf of The Executive Office. We also provide development support and facilitate wide community engagement and sharing of best practice on effective approaches to peace-building, reconciliation and good community relationships.

This aim is the central reference point for all of the Community Relations Council's work.

ii. The Community Relations Council Board and Staff

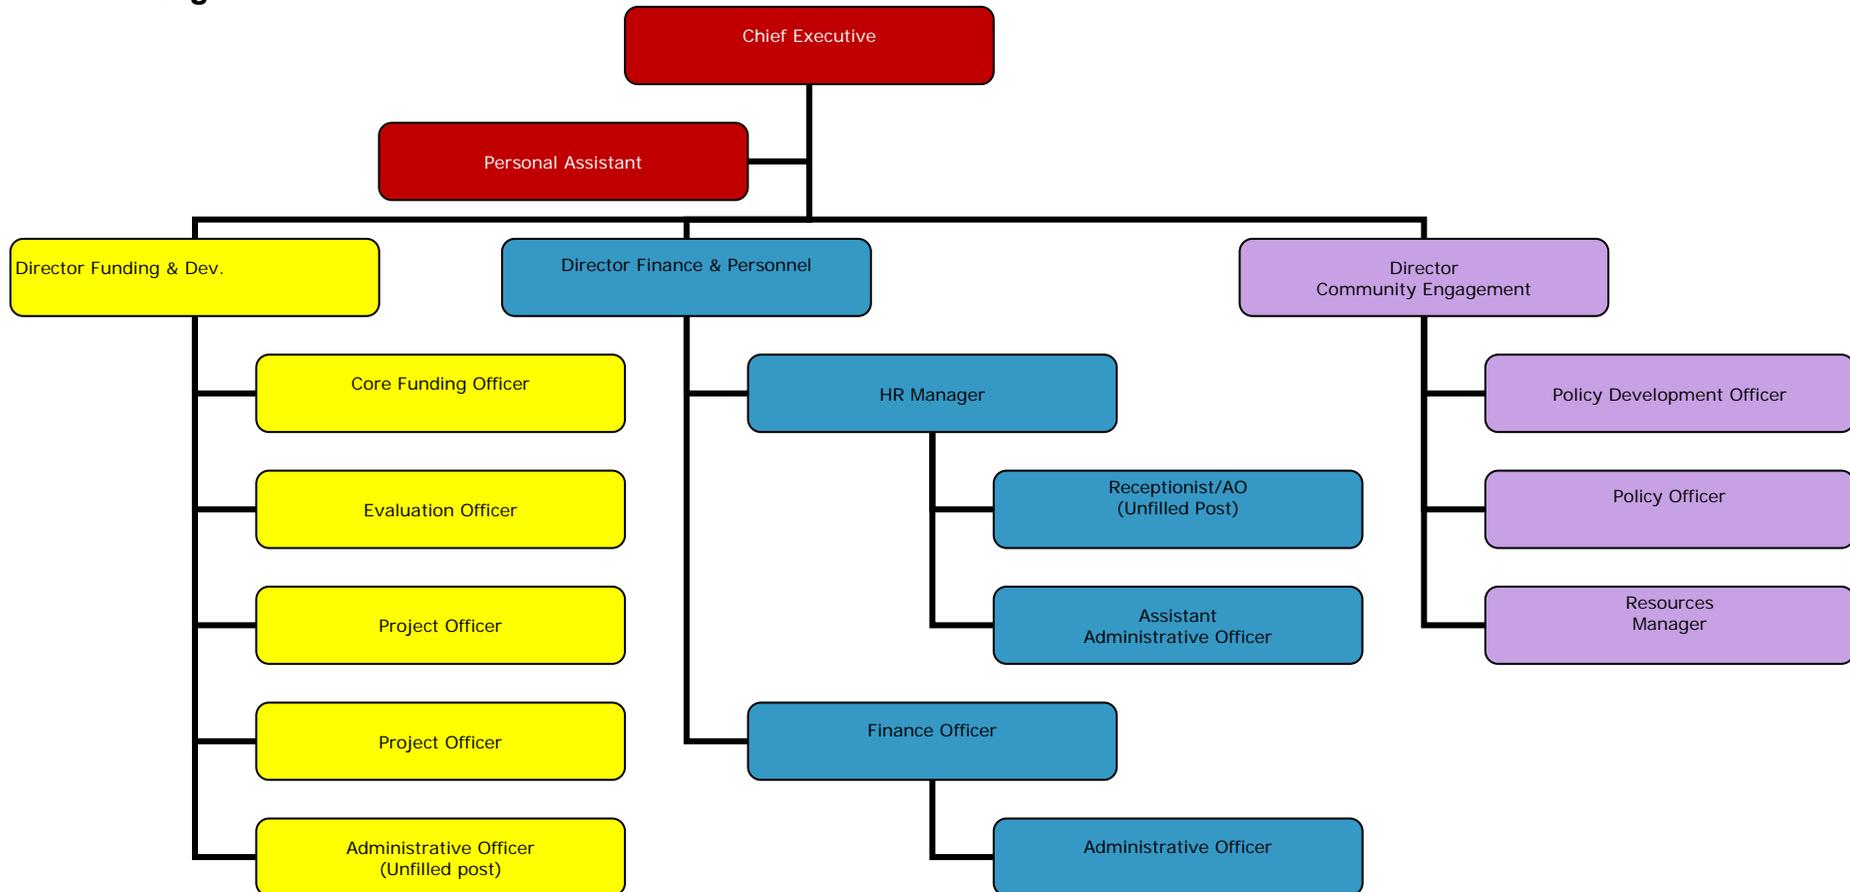

The Board of the Community Relations Council currently has 9 members and is chaired by Mr. Peter Osborne. The Board meets every 6 weeks and is supported in its governance role by the Audit and Risk Assurance Committee which also meets on a six weekly cycle, normally 2 weeks before the Board.

The Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of the Community Relations Council is responsible for the day to day management of the organisation. The CEO is supported by three Directors: Director of Funding and Development, Director of Engagement and Director of Finance, Personnel and Administration. The Senior Management Team is responsible for the leadership, prioritisation and delivery of the work programme within the annual budget.

The staffing structure of the CRC is currently made up of 16 employees (and 2 unfilled posts). We encourage and develop our employees to enhance the contribution they make to the CRC's work and the issues important to developing good community relations. Although this is a small staff, the CRC routinely works in partnership across the region with other bodies that have good relations objectives.

2. HOW WE WORK

i. Our Vision

A peaceful, reconciled and interdependent society.

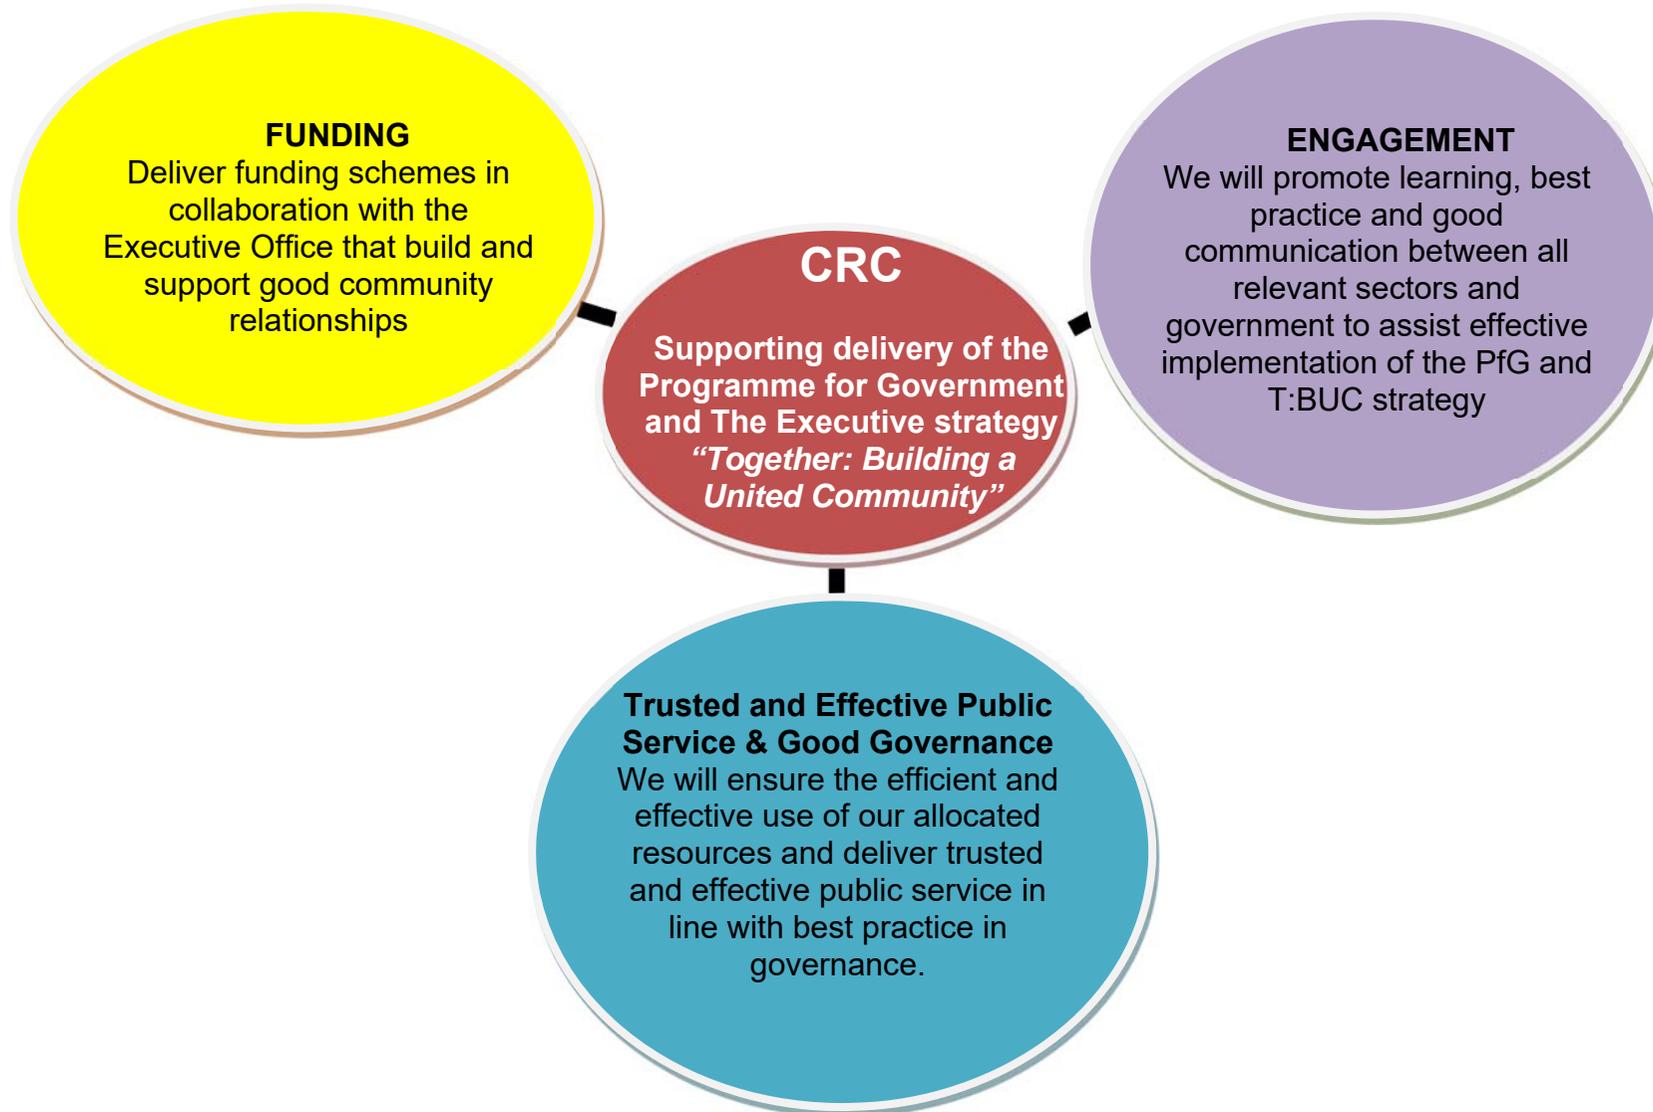

ii. Our Values

Human rights are the fundamental basis for good community relations. In that context, the Community Relations Council is also guided by the following values and beliefs:

- Interdependence: CRC recognises and affirms the interconnectedness of the personal and community experiences of all those living and working in Northern Ireland. We believe in inclusive and open dialogue. The CRC exists to promote good relations based on trust, respect and inclusion.
- Diversity: We believe that our diversity of identities and cultures in Northern Ireland enriches life and is to be celebrated.
- Equity and Equality: CRC is committed to fair treatment for all, through open access to resources, structures and decision-making processes at all levels of society, as an essential basis for good community relations.
- Respect and dignity: CRC is committed to the promotion of inter-cultural respect and freedom of expression and movement (whether expressed through religious, ethnic or political background) and supports the peaceful expression of variety and difference. CRC therefore recognises non-violence as an essential condition for the growth of trust, dialogue and conflict transformation.
- Openness, Transparency and Accountability: To maintain trust and confidence in our work as a provider of public services CRC embraces these values in all its work.

3. OUR STRATEGY AND HOW WE INTEND TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE

i. The strategic themes of the CRC:

The overall aim of the Community Relations Council Business Plan 2019-20¹ is to support our Strategic Plan to promote good relations among the citizens and communities of Northern Ireland and the delivery of the draft Programme for Government (PfG) and the Together: Building a United Community (T:BUC) strategy.

ii. Draft Programme for Government 2016-21

The Northern Ireland Executive's Outcomes Delivery Plan is accessible at:
<https://www.executiveoffice-ni.gov.uk/publications/outcomes-delivery-plan-201819>

It has an outcome focus which aims to devise a framework that will ensure that actions taken by government and its partners will bring about a real difference to society. Peace-building and improving community relations contribute to the conditions in which all of the PfG indicators are more likely to be achieved. However there are a number of PfG indicators and outcomes to which the work of the Community Relations Council is particularly relevant:

Indicators:

- 26. Increase respect for each other
- 31. Increase shared space
- 35. Increase reconciliation

The work of the Community Relations Council also contributes indirectly to:

- 1. Reduce crime (relevant to CRC, crime motivated by sectarianism or racism)
- 27. Improve cultural participation
- 28. Increase the confidence and capability of people and communities
- 30. Improve our attractiveness as a destination
- 40. Improve our international reputation

Outcomes:

- 7. We have a safe community where we respect the law and each other
- 9. We are a shared, welcoming and confident society that respects diversity
- 10. We have created a place where people want to live and work, to visit and invest

iii. Together: Building a United Community (T:BUC)

¹ Community Relations Council Business Plan 2019-20 available at: <https://www.community-relations.org.uk/governance>

Our plan aims to contribute towards the delivery of the T:BUC priorities and associated outcomes. The Strategy outlines how Government, community and individuals will work together to build a united community and achieve change against 4 key priorities. The strategy is accessible at: Together: Building a United Community - \(TBUC\) | The Executive Office) and a high level summary of the 4 key priorities can be found in Appendix 1 of this plan.

iv. The structure of our Outcome Delivery Plan 2019/20:

- Key objectives and indicators are grouped by the Community Relations Council's 3 Key Corporate themes (in the areas of Funding, Engagement and Trusted, effective Public Service/Good Governance)
- Actions, activities, outputs are identified
- We have provided information on how they will be measured
- In each case a Senior Responsible Officer is identified; and
- Financial resource is allocated to individual components or where more appropriate, to the overall area of activity

Progress will be colour coded using a traffic light (RAG) status, with blue indicating that the target has been met:

Blue	Completed targets
Green	Target will be met with no issues identified
Amber	It is not currently on target but is being monitored and action is being taken which is likely to ensure it is brought back on target.
Red	There is a strong likelihood based on trends or evidence that the target will not be achieved, or the target has been missed.

Progress against outputs is monitored by the CRC's Senior Management Team on a six weekly basis; the CRC's Board; and The Executive Office (and thereafter by the TEO Board) in Performance Reports and at Accountability and Liaison meetings. The risks to the CRC and delivery of its plans are monitored by the Audit and Risk Assurance Committee which also meets on a 6 weekly basis, normally 2 weeks before the Board.

4. HOW WE WILL KNOW IF WE ARE MAKING A DIFFERENCE

In adopting an outcomes based accountability approach the Community Relations Council has worked collaboratively with The Executive Office to draft strategic outcomes for the funding we provide on behalf of government. The outcomes are aligned to the draft Programme for Government and the policy Together: Building a United Community. On 4th June 2018 The Executive Office published the Outcomes Delivery Plan 2018-19. The plan is the framework of 12 outcomes developed by the previous Executive, consulted on and refined during 2016-2017. That framework reflects population conditions in the twelve key areas of economic and societal wellbeing that people said mattered most to them. The report's purpose is to provide a coherent, outcomes-focused framework which sets out the operational actions and interventions that will be taken and which demonstrates how the budget for public services is being used. It is a document which provides direction and clarity for those who deliver public services and which provides transparency and accountability around the operational business of government. Although peace and good relationships contribute to all twelve of the outcomes examined, the following are identified as being particularly relevant to the work of the Community Relations Council: Outcomes 7 (We have a safe community where we respect the law, and each other), Outcome 9 (We are a shared, welcoming and confident society that respects diversity) and Outcome 10 (We have created a place where people want to live and work, to visit and invest). Further details are included in Appendix 2 of this report.

On 4th October 2018 The Executive Office also published The Good Relations Indicator report which presents a range of statistics relating to community relations, including numbers of hate crimes, attitudinal data on Protestant/Catholic relations and attitudes towards mixing in schools, neighbourhoods and the workplace. The report is available on the Executive Office Statistics and Research Branch section of The Executive Office website. All figures in the report relate to 2017 (unless otherwise stated). The purpose of the publication is to monitor indicators for the four key priorities of the T:BUC Strategy: our children and young people; our shared community; our safe community; and, our cultural expression. Some of the key findings are included in Appendix 3 of this report. The Executive Office continues to develop mechanisms to track outcomes to show the contribution these can make at a population level.

The indicators and measures contained in the Community Relations Council Outcome Delivery Plan are set at an organisational performance level to distinguish the difference the Community Relations Council and the work it funds can make and for which it can be held to account. In relation to our engagement work we are developing a new outcomes framework (please see the Engagement section of our plan) and in our grant making an outcomes based approach has been designed into our application, assessment, performance monitoring and evaluation processes. Below is the outline of the outcome framework for our grant schemes:

Together: Building a United Community (T:BUC)

Our plan aims to contribute towards the delivery of the T:BUC priorities and associated outcomes. The Strategy (accessible at: Together: Building a United Community - \(TBUC\) | The Executive Office) outlines how Government, community and individuals will work together to build a united community and achieve change against the following key priorities:

- Our Children and Young People.

Aim: To continue to improve attitudes amongst our young people and to build a community where they can play a full and active role in building good relations.

Strategic Outcomes:

1.1 Improving attitudes between young people from different backgrounds

1.2 Young people engaging in bringing the community together

- Our Shared Community.

Aim: To create a community where division does not restrict the life opportunities of individuals and where all areas are open and accessible to everyone.

Strategic Outcomes:

1.3 Increased use of shared space and services

1.4 Shared space is accessible to all

- Our Safe Community.

Aim: To create a community where everyone feels safe in moving around and where life choices are not inhibited by fears around safety.

Strategic Outcomes:

1.5 Reduce the prevalence of hate crime and intimidation

1.6 A community where places and spaces are safe for all

- Our Cultural Expression.

Aim: To create a community which promotes mutual respect and understanding, is strengthened by its diversity, and where cultural expression is celebrated and embraced.

Strategic Outcomes:

1.7 Increased sense of community belonging

1.8 Cultural diversity is celebrated

The Executive Office Good Relations Indicator report

On 4th October 2018 The Executive Office also published The Good Relations Indicator report which presents a range of statistics relating to community relations, including numbers of hate crimes, attitudinal data on Protestant/Catholic relations and attitudes towards mixing in schools, neighbourhoods and the workplace. The report is available on the Executive Office Statistics and Research Branch section of The Executive Office website. All figures in the report relate to 2017 (unless otherwise stated). The purpose of the publication is to monitor indicators for the four key priorities of the T:BUC Strategy: our children and young people; our shared community; our safe community; and, our cultural expression. Some of the key findings include:

Our Children and Young People

- 49% of adults and 46% of young people think that relations between Protestants and Catholics are better now than they were five years ago. Figures for the previous year were 59% and 52%, respectively.
- 70% of young people have 'done projects' with pupils from other schools, while 60% have 'shared classes', and 48% 'shared sports facilities or equipment'.

Our Shared Community

- 89% of respondents said they would prefer a mixed religion workplace, 78% a mixed religion neighbourhood and 68% mixed religion schools.
- 65% of respondents do not think Protestants and Catholics use different shops and services in their area, while a quarter of respondents think this does tend to happen.

Our Safe Community

- In 2017/18, 576 sectarian, and 609 racially motivated hate crimes were recorded. This is the first year that the number of racially motivated hate crimes has surpassed that of sectarian hate crimes. Both have shown a decrease since 2016/17 (a decrease of 51 racially motivated and 118 sectarian hate crimes).

- 72% of the 661 households that presented as homeless due to intimidation in 2016/17 did so because of paramilitary intimidation.

Our Cultural Expression

- 80% of respondents think that the culture and traditions of Catholic communities, and of Protestant communities, add to the richness and diversity of Northern Ireland society. A significantly lower proportion think the culture and traditions of minority ethnic communities add to the richness and diversity of Northern Ireland society (68%).
- 66% of adult respondents feel that their own cultural identity is respected by society, a decrease of 6 percentage points since the previous year.
